The Nellie Gill Players in "Too Many Crooks"

A Farcial Fact

A professional burglar who wants a bank roll in order that he may marry and go straight encounters a kleptomaniac who considers himself responsible for everything that disappears. The real crook poses as a detective and gets rid of the things he has stolen by planting them on the innocent inmates of the house. The play is full of good clean comedy.

About 50 men attended the men's banquet at the vestry of the M. E. church on Tuesday evening.

Miss Mabel Esdon and brother, Edwin, were in Randolph one day last week to visit the agricultural school.

One of the worst electric storms in years passed over the place last Thursday evening. Many elderly people say they never remember such a storm and so much water falling before.

JAMES G. SIMPSON

James Greeley Simpson, whose death occurred at his home in Greensboro Bend on June 17, was a native of Craftsbury, having been born at East Craftsbury, October 11, 1854, the second son of James W. and Jean Walker Simpson, and grandson of John Simpson, an emigrant from Scotland, who came to Greensboro in 1830.

He obtained his preparatory education at Craftsbury academy, Williston seminary, East Hampton, Mass., and St. Johnsbury academy, where he graduated. He later studied law in the office of L. H. Thompson of Irasburg, W. W. Miles of Craftsbury and Sen. W. W. Groat of Barton, completing his preparation for the bar at the law school of Columbia university, New York City.

After returning to Vermont Mr. Simpson was admitted to the Orleans county bar in 1879 and immediately commenced the practice of his profession at Greensboro Bend. Later he returned to Craftsbury, where he opened an office, remaining there until 1884, when he went West and opened an office in Minneapolis, Minn., forming the firm of Wright and Simpson, later changed to Wright & Lang.

He was admitted to the Minneapolis bar in 1885 and continued to practice in that state until his return to Craftsbury in 1897, where he lived until he built the residence at Greensboro Bend, which has since been his home and where he opened an office in 1907.

Mr. Simpson was a man of scholarly attainments, remarkably well informed and a recognized authority in his profession. He was a member of the bar in Minnesota, Vermont and was an active member of the Orleans County Bar association and of the American Lawyers' association and was also a member of the Knights of Pythias.

He leaves besides several nephews and nieces, one sister, Mrs. Mary E. Wylie, of East Craftsbury.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday, June 20, at Mr. Simpson's late home, Rev. C. E. Gordon of Greensboro officiating, assisted by Rev. Frank J. Knapp of Montpelier and Rev. N. C. Webster of Greensboro Bend. Interment was made in the family lot at East Craftsbury.

Those who came from a distance to attend the funeral were John W. Simpson, Jr., of New York City, and John D. Wylie of Boston, nephews of the deceased; Judge and Mrs. W. W. Miles and Henry Cutler of Barton; Mr. and Mrs. Wesson and Perley Rogers of Danville, Rev. Frank J. Knapp, Mr. Howard, Mrs. David Spicer and Mrs. Agnes Guesborne, all of Montpelier.

The presence of many neighbors and friends as well as the profusion of beautiful flowers gave evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Simpson was held, both as a lawyer and as a citizen.

CARD—The family of the late James G. Simpson of Greensboro desire through the columns of this paper to express their sincere thanks to all the friends and neighbors whose kindness and sympathy were so much appreciated at the time of Mr. Simpson's illness and death. Thanks is also gratefully extended to the beautiful flowers sent by individuals and by the various organizations of which Mr. Simpson was a member.

David Neddow underwent an operation at the Orleans hospital last Thursday.

Mrs. Hattie Woodard returned home from Levi Lothrop's at Orleans Saturday.

Miss Vera Leland came home from Augusta, Me., Saturday for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foster and family and Miss Glenna Tracy were in Newport Saturday.

Geo. Hunt began work on his barn Monday morning. B. F. Scott of Orleans is doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bickford and three children of Wheelock were guests at W. J. Monteith's Sunday.

Mrs. Will Campbell of Concord, N. H., and Mrs. Stuart Morash of Brookline, Mass., were here to attend the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Andrew Twombly.

The grammar grades of the school taught by Mrs. Nettie Monteith closed June 20th with a picnic. Twenty pupils were enrolled for the spring term. Of this number Glendon and Lynford Foster, Warwick Hunt, Harold Labor, and Walter Marshall had no absent or tardy marks during the term. Glendon Foster had no absent or tardy marks during the entire year. The attendance for the term was 97 per cent and for the year 95 per cent.

MARTHA E. TWOMBLY

Martha E. Twombly passed away at her home on June 19th at the age of 80 years, after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Twombly was born in Barton December 30, 1841, and was the daughter of Cyrus and Margaret (Higgins) Heath. During her girlhood Mrs. Twombly taught school in Evansville and in 1860 married Andrew J. Twombly, and shortly after their marriage they moved to Athens, Ohio, where their only child, Jennie, now Mrs. Wm. R. Devereaux, was born to them. After spending a number of years here they returned to Barton and the remainder of Mrs. Twombly's long and useful life was spent in this and neighboring towns.

Early in her life Mrs. Twombly united with the Methodist church and for many years was a regular attendant at its services. Even in later life when she found it difficult to walk to the services she still maintained a great interest in the welfare of her church and always contributed willingly to the various causes in which her help was solicited. Mrs. Twombly was widely known in this vicinity and was loved and respected by all who knew her. Her life was devoted to kindly deeds, and perhaps this spirit of kindness and consideration which she manifested for others accounts for the great number of friends with whom she was blessed and for the affection which they felt for her. The funeral services were held from the house on Thursday, June 22, the Rev. C. D. Pierce of Orleans officiating. Those from out of town attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Devereaux and family of Albany, Mrs. W. J. Campbell of Concord, N. H., Mrs. Stuart R. Morash of Brookline, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Bert Twombly and Mrs. Geo. Nichols of West Burke, and Mrs. Henry McGuire and Fred Twombly of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Barton, Will Twombly and daughter, Henry Badger and Mrs. Elmy Dodge of Orleans.

I can not say and I will not say that she is dead—she is just away. With a cherry smile and a wave of the hand, she has wandered into an unknown land.

And you, O you who the wildest yearn for the old time step and the glad return, think of her faring on, as dear

In the land of There as the love of Here;

Think of her still as the same, I say; She is not dead—she is just away.

CARD—We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the neighbors and friends who expressed words of sympathy and comfort and extended assistance during the sickness, death and burial of our beloved wife and mother. We wish also to thank those who gave the beautiful flowers.

Andrew J. Twombly, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Devereaux and family.

WESTMORE

Recent guests at the New Willoughby Hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Horan, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Turcotte, Meriden, Conn., John Geraghty and family, Maria McDonald, Holyoke, Mass., O. A. McFarland, Burlington, Geo. Diehl, Covington, Ky., Leon Waterman, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O. Scoville, Dr. Helen Scoville, and Dr. Belle Wasson of New Haven, Conn.

On June 22, Mrs. Anna S. Allen, teacher of Lake View school, closed another successful year. For progress, conduct and 95 per cent of attendance, she presented over 30 pupils with an initiated silver spoon.

She also signed a contract for 1922-3. Miss Rose Lucia, state supervisor of rural schools, has rated Mrs. Allen's school as one of the 16 approved standard schools of the state. There are 1100 rural schools in the state.

CRAFTSBURY

A few farmers in this vicinity commenced haying Monday.

The pageant given in the town hall Friday evening was a very interesting and uplifting occasion.

Henry Smith was taken to Hardwick Sunday a. m., where he passed through an operation for appendicitis.

Helen Burleson went to Greensboro Wednesday where she will assist in the tea house for the Dutton girls.

Fred Kemp, Miss Smith and Florence Smith called on Henry Smith at the Hardwick hospital Monday evening.

In spite of the rain the supper and social at Collinsville was a very pleasant occasion and a financial success. Proceeds were $21.00.

Mrs. Lola Allen and daughter, Bernice, on at the Hardwick school, came last week to spend the summer at their former home with their son and brother, Lovell Allen.

ORLEANS

F. M. Dean and son and daughter, Burton and Fanny, and Elmer Lyon motored to Lisbon Sunday. Mr. Dean's mother, Mrs. Viola Dean, returned with them to remain for an indefinite time.

Miss Veda Hawse returned Wednesday from a three weeks' visit with her brother and other relatives in Hanover. Her cousin, Miss Marion Hawse, of Hanover, returned with her for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White and daughter, Doris, started Saturday for Saratoga, N. Y., to visit his sister, and to be present when their son, Ralph White, graduates from the Saratoga high school. They will return about July 5th.

Mrs. George Sanders has sold her home on School street to Thomas Smith of Evansville. We are pleased to have Mr. Smith and family make Orleans their traveling salesman for a while. Mr. Smith has gone to Morrisville to live with her son, Walter Sanders.

The oil has arrived for the streets and will probably be applied this week. On ton of calcium chloride will be tried as an experiment. F. J. Parin and H. W. Buchanan are very generously sharing in the expense of the latter.

On June 30th and July 1st, there will be a 50 per cent. reduction sale of corsets, pottery, small gifts, books, etc. belonging to the estate of the late L. C. Colburne. The sale will take place at Gladys Masure's shop on Church street.

A special meeting of the Mother's club was held with Mrs. Andrus on June 19th, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. White; vice president, Mrs. Dorman; secretary, Mrs. Andrus; treasurer, Mrs. Leavitt.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hunt, accompanied by Dr. Lanphear, carried Miss Porter, a sister of Mrs. Hunt, to Brightlook hospital Saturday, where she underwent an operation Sunday.

Miss Porter is from Manchester, N. H., and it appears that she had been visiting her sister when she was taken ill.

Henry Schutz found a pocketbook in the park Tuesday morning containing $250 in money. A name inside and a little inquiry soon enabled Mr. Schutz to return it to the owner, V. L. Cruickshank, a traveling salesman for a Boston hardware house. A hearty handshake and a smoke settled the matter to the satisfaction of both parties. Comment seems unnecessary.

Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Hamilton started for Flushing, L. I., Mrs. Hamilton's former home, last Thursday morning. From there they will go to Mr. Hamilton's former home in West Virginia. Mr. Hamilton then hopes to attend a summer school at Columbia for a short time before they return to Orleans, probably about the latter part of July.

Prof. and Mrs. Wm. McKinley Robinson left Tuesday morning. They went via Portland by train, then by boat to Boston where they will attend a teachers' convention. They will later go to New York for the summer school at Columbia university. They have many warm friends in Orleans who deeply regret their decision not to remain here for another school year.

A few days ago while Samuel Gelo was working on the cellar for his new house on North avenue, he was obliged to return to his home in Lowell owing to unaccountable severe pain in his thumb. This continued until convulsions showed indications of tetanus. A physician was summoned from Burlington and the attack was overcome. It is reported that Mr. Gelo is likely to make a complete recovery.
